High School Diploma Given by Testing

While most students were enjoying the extended weekend brought about by the teacher's meeting, a few ambitious people were on campus to take the General Education Development Tests.

These tests are given once a semester to anyone over 21 who has not graduated from high school. Any participant in the program who receives a passing grade is presented with a high school diploma which is valid in all states.

The program consists of a two-day session in which a series of five tests is given. Originally these tests were given by the army to draftees.

About six people usually take these tests each semester. The results for the past few years show that approximately two-thirds of the participants passed. The tests have been given to several people over 50 and a few over 60.

PUT ANOTHER NICKEL IN—Misses Rosamund Davis, Janie Mason, and Patty Leslie are shown using the vending machines in the new Hudson Hall recreation room.

Coed Recreation Rooms Now Open in Hudson Hall

By Joan Mann

He comes curiously in the back door and walks quickly down the flight of stairs. Turning to the right, he hastily passes by the empty elevator and huge furnace. It seems rather dark at first, and he hesitates a moment. But, as he approaches the last door, light comes shining through, and he knows he has come to the right place. No, he's not in Hernando's Hideaway. It's just the Hudson Hall recreation room.

Opened This Year

But one can hardly say "just." The rec room which is open this year for the first time, is equipped with lots of new furniture, study tables, tables with checker boards, ping-pong table, a hi-fi and albums, a television set, a piano, seven snack and refreshment machines, and loads of brand new magazines.

Even so, the rec room has not been completely finished. Besides more games and objects that the dorm council will buy, there are tentative plans for adding a kitchen unit.

Visiting Hours

Visitors accompanied by a girl from Hudson Hall will have access to the rec room on Sunday from 1-5 p.m.; Wednesday from 6:30-10:30 p.m. and Friday and Saturday from 6:30-12 p.m. It will also be open at special times. It was opened the week-end of the teachers' meeting to all students when the Den was closed.

Dr. Gayler Writes Article for Review

Dr. George R. Gayler, professor of history, recently had published in the Oct. issue of Missouri Historical Review an article entitled "Attempts by the State of Missouri to Extradite Joseph Smith, 1841-1845."

Joseph Smith founded the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints, commonly called Mormons. Dr. Gayler also stated that he taught a course of European history at Indiana State College, Indiana, Penn., three weeks in August of this year.

Float Builders State Views

Homecoming means many things to various people but to the hammer-wielding, napkin-stuffing float builders it means . . . WORK.

"Too much work and too few workers; too many on-lookers instead of participants," was the opinion voiced by Ron Anderson, junior from Red Oak, Ia.

John Foley, senior from St. Joseph, Mo., expressed similar feelings but added, "School spirit is active at homecoming but not at other times." Foley also suggested that Walk-Out Day be held during homecoming week to enable students to have more time to work on the floats.

The 'more the merrier' type view was stated by Marty Durfee, senior from Council Bluffs, Ia. She opinioned, "If more people would help, not only would we get more done but also enjoy the work more."

"Later hours for the girls, so that they might work longer," was the idea of Ed Reeder, junior from Lombard, Ill.

A freshman from Tulsa, Okla., "Tulsa" Myles, said of homecoming, "We need better organization. It's a lot of work but well worth the effort."

What does homecoming mean to you?

Is it just a parade, football game or dance?

Homecoming is all of these components acting together with a catalyst . . . student participation.

Maryville, MSC Plan to Observe National UN Day

In recognition of the ratification of the United Nations charter signed by 29 nations 18 years ago U. N. Day will be nationally observed on Oct. 24.

The United States Committee for the U.N. is composed of 135 organizations whose purpose is to disseminate facts about the U.N., to arouse interest in the U.N., and to promote observance of the U.N. Day in the United States. Having been appointed by President John F. Kennedy, Robert B. Benjamin is serving as the national chairman.

Committees are appointed by local authorities each year at the request of the national chairman. Dr. James Lowe, associate professor of social science at MSC, is presently serving as local chairman. Twenty-two local organizations are presently working on plans for this annual observance.

Faculty Briefs

We will revere and obey the College laws and do our best to incite a like respect and reverence in others. We will transmit this College to those who come after us, greater, better, and more beautiful than it was transmitted to us."

All That Jazz Wha Hoppen?

What happened?

Last Wednesday about 300 people attended upper class meetings to elect class officers. Most, if not all, were members of Greek organizations. Last Friday about 100 freshmen met and elected their officers. Here, again the election was dominated by Greek organizations.

Why did class elections, supposedly an all-school affair, turn into an intramural squabble among the Greeks which could have been better handled at the All-Greek Assembly? The answer is that very few people, especially those not belonging to social organizations, knew anything about the election. Why?

At the Oct. 3 meeting of the Student Senate, the date for the election was set. Notice of the election should have appeared in the Oct. 9 issue of the Northwest Missourian, but, due to an oversight on our part, the announcement was received but not printed. As of Oct. 9, then, no official announcement of the election had been made.

What happened during the week between the 9th and the 16th? The old all-Greek coalition composed of six fraternities and sororities met and set up its slate of officers. The three organizations outside the coalition met the night before the election and set up another slate. Still no general publicity or official announcements. No posters appeared. No announcements were made in the Den. No announcements were read in classes.

On the day of the election the Greeks showed up in force. In each class meeting two people were nominated for each office, one from each coalition. The voting was almost identical for each office, one set of Greeks for one candidate, one set for the other.

The results were not surprising. Without exception, every upperclass officer was supported by the larger of the two coalitions.

In the freshman class a slightly different situation presented itself. Too few came to the Wednesday class meeting to even warrant an election so it was postponed. At the Thursday night orientation meeting which involved almost every freshman, the election was reset for Friday noon. A few more than 100 of the 700-800 freshmen at orientation came to the meeting. The officers elected, strangely enough, were split evenly between the two opposing groups.

As a result of the lack of publicity and certain irregularities which occurred, the members of the losing coalition protested the election to the Senate. According to the protest, the Constitution requires that four persons be nominated for each office. Only two were. The constitution further requires that the election be held during the second week of school. They were held the fifth week. The Senate heard the request, regretted the discrepancies, but allowed the election to stand.

A number of interesting questions arise. Why wasn't adequate publicity given to the elections? Why was the freshman election postponed and the upperclass elections held? Why wasn't the freshman election held at orientation? Why did the Senate admit the discrepancies but refuse to take any action? Why didn't the ISO and other organizations composed of independent students protest the conduct of the election?

Some people are inclined to dismiss the whole matter as a waste of time since class officers are now ceremonial with no real duties except to be present at the election of the successors. Others ask why bother—it would probably have turned out this way anyway.

We do not agree with these positions. If an election is important enough to be held properly. What respect can a student have for the democratic process of voting when he sees it consistently mishandled and mismanaged. A good, clean election helps the spirit of the campus, but when one side is given reason to believe it was cheated or that someone played dirty pool, antagonism and ill-will are created.

Let's shape up. The Homecoming queen election is tomorrow and we certainly don't want a repeat of the '62 Tower Queen contest. People have already enough Mickey Mouse tricks in this queen election. Let's have at least one good, clean, fair election about which no questions can be raised.

Mail Bag

Dear Sir:

Obviously the politics of this campus have become very corrupt. I feel the reason for this corruption is the rising interest of the independent student on this campus in better and fairer representation in the Senate, in class officers, and in other positions of responsibility on campus.

Because I am independent, I too feel that the majority has not been given a fair opportunity for leadership. It is true that each student is a member of the campus government and has a right to attend Senate meetings, etc. However, most students have not been informed of its functions nor are they fairly informed of elections, requirements for being candidates, positions open, place of elections and other items of importance. This was obviously apparent in the recent class officers elections.

Many students were not even aware of the elections of class officers and have since heard of the one-sided Greek coalition. For those who are still uninformed, I shall try to explain. A number of Greek organizations on campus (TKE, Sig Tau, Phi Lamb, Phi Mu, DZ, and Alpha Sigma Alpha) deliberately formed a coalition to elect their members class officers. Is this election a challenge to the independent student to elect a set of officers also, as about fifteen percent of the students have already done?

Why did a few Greeks join forces to unfairly win these positions? Why did the Senate officers not inform campus organizations of the elections? Could the reason be that the top three officers of the Senate and the Cabinet are all members of the controlling coalition? Could the lack of publicity be due to the fact that more independent students are beginning to take an active interest in campus affairs? Could this be a precedent for all future elections?

The independent student has not in the past had much say in the affairs on campus because of the size of enrollment. However, as approximately 85% of the present students are independents, I wonder how much longer we are going to take repeated slaps in the face and pass it by without rebelling!

As president of the Independent Student Organization, I and our Executive Committee are trying to speak out as representatives of the independent students. We can do this only if the independent

Bearcats To Test Upset Minded Miners Saturday

Will Rolla do it again? Will the Miners rise to the occasion as they did against pre-season co-favorite Cape Girardeau two weeks ago?

These are questions facing Coach Ivan Schottel and his Bearcats as they prepare to host the Rolla Miners in the annual Homecoming game Saturday afternoon at 2:00 p.m.

The Miners stunned Cape, 19-14, in Rolla Oct. 12, throwing the MIAA race up for grabs. Cape was a heavy favorite to win the contest, even though they had taken their lumps to out-of-state, non-conference opponents earlier in the season.

The Gale Bullman coached Miners evidently paid little attention to the dope sheets in their upset victory over Cape and will be out for MIAA win number two against Maryville. Last year the Miners crunched the Bearcats, 26-12, in Rolla behind the talented throwing arm of quarterback Jay Alford, an All-MIAA selection in post-season balloting.

Coach Bullman, dean of MIAA grid mentors in his 26th year of coaching, has suffered several losses outside of the gridiron this year. Nine returning lettermen did not report for football this year, including the conference's top pass receiver, Terry Wargo.

Alford, the all-league aerial artist, added to Coach Bullman's woes with a broken hand in an early season game and has been limited to defensive duty only. Whether Alford will be ready by Saturday is unknown, but if he is, the 'Cats could be in for a repeat of last year's contest. In that game, Alford connected on 16 of 30 attempts for 261 yards, a Rolla School record.

Balanced Attack

Top returnees for Rolla are center Charlie Riggs, guard Don Bacich, and halfback George Gastarovic. In their come-from-behind win over Cape, fullback Gary Couse bulled his way over and around Cape defenders for 141 yards rushing and two touchdowns.

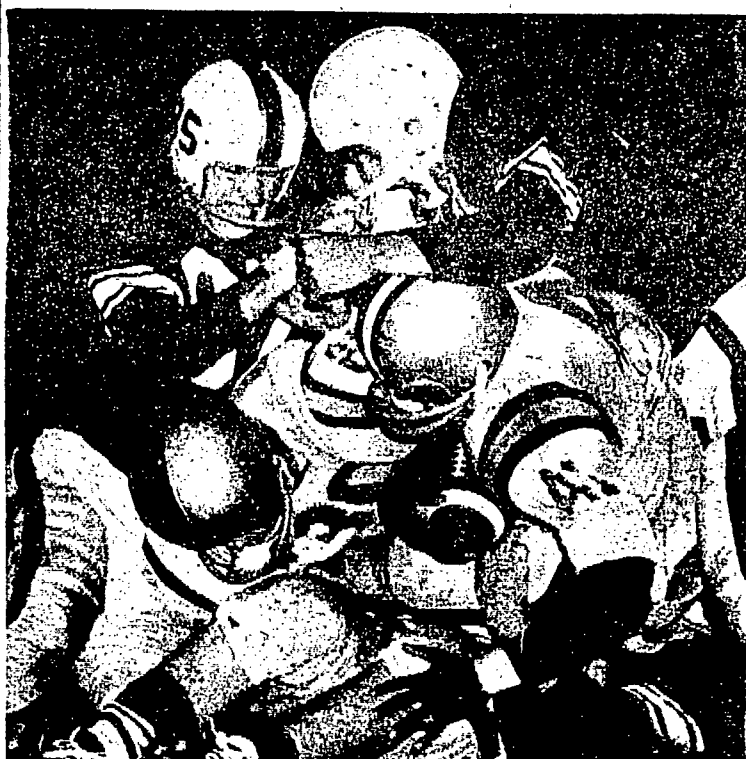

If Alford is unable to handle the signal calling chores, Bob Wheeler will get the starting nod. Halfback Gastarovic has been the most consistent ground gainer and is a punt and kickoff return threat. The fleet back returned a kickoff all the way against Pittsburg State earlier in the year.

Swimmers Start Practice With Weight Training

The MSC swimming team, under the direction of Dr. H. D. Peterson, began workouts last week in preparation for the upcoming season.

Dr. Peterson asks that all interested swimmers contact him in his office at Lamkin Gymnasium. The squad is working out with weights at present, with the weight training program to continue for a six-week period.

Sig Taus Take Scoring Lead In Intramurals

Final scores in intramural singles tennis matches as reported by Rex Pettigrew, student intramural director, show Sig Taus leading with 142 points.

Trailing the leaders are Phi Lambs, 125; Phi Sigs, 109; TKE, 103; Independents, 34; and AKL, 19.

Pettigrew stated that all organizations aided in the tournament by their combined cooperation and sportsmanship.

Dr. Frank Grube assisted with the tournament. Registration for doubles was Oct. 16-17, with matches extending into this week, Oct. 23-24.

Intramural football tournament play started Oct. 21 with the first place winners of the various leagues competing against each other. The tournament is being operated on a new basis this year with all other teams in the leagues playing each other according to their respective finishes.

The tournament is being played on a single elimination basis with the final victor being the intramural champion for the season.

MSC Bearcats Edged, 13-12, At Warrensburg Homecoming

Coach Ivan Schottel's Northwest State College Bearcats missed a pair of 2-point PAT conversion tries Saturday afternoon and bowed before the Warrensburg Mules 12-13 before a crowd of 7,000 at the Central Missouri State Homecoming clash.

Warrensburg never trailed in the outing, scoring in the first quarter on a blocked punt which was picked up and lugged for a TD. Tackle Dan Neperoli and end John Rice smashed through the Maryville forward wall to deflect the punt and guard Abe Clark alertly snatched up the pigskin and rambled 25 yards to paydirt.

James Crane booted what proved to be the winning point on a successful PAT kick that gave the Mules a 7-0 advantage that held until halftime.

The Bearcats got back into the ball game early in the third quarter as they marched 84 yards in six plays with Leo Papas at the controls.

Five rushing plays netted 15 yards and then the MSC signal caller uncorked a 69-yard scoring aerial to speedy halfback Lonnie Irvin. Playing to win rather than tie, Papas attempted to pass for the 2-point conversion but was unsuccessful.

Leading 7-6 the Mules retaliated with a third quarter scoring play of their own as Willie Weaver capped a 64-yard drive with a 13-yard scamper for TD.

Maryville rallied in the fourth quarter and scored after a 78-yard march as freshman reserve halfback Joe Peterson slammed across from five yards out after taking a pass from Papas. Once again a Papas pass try for the PAT went awry and the scoring for the evening was over with MSC on the short end of a 13-12 tally.

A final Maryville drive was cut short by the clock as the game ended with MSC in possession on the Warrensburg 20.

Statistically the 'Cats had a big edge as they outgained the Mules 321 yards to 195 yards and had 19 first downs to 11 for Warrensburg.
